

Getting to Ferreïrola

Ferreïrola 18414, Granada, Spain

36°55'46"N 3°18'48"W

What 3 Words:

www.what3words.com

flexibility.fellow.touches

Although Ferreïrola is in a relatively remote and secluded location it is not too difficult to get to and any extra effort is undoubtedly worth it. Everyone who comes to La Taha never wants to leave!

Airports (with distances from Ferreïrola)

Granada 84 km (52 miles) / Malaga 136 km (84 miles) / Almeria 134 km (83 miles)

Driving to Ferreïrola

The easiest way of getting to Ferreïrola is by car. If you are flying in to Granada, Almeria or Malaga the simplest thing is to hire a car at the airport. However, unless you are planning to extend your stay beyond the retreat you will have no need for a car once you are in Ferreïrola itself so you may prefer a pick-up (see below). This is often cheaper than hiring a car, especially if you are sharing the taxi.

Driving times to Ferreïrola from the airports

From Granada approximately 1½ hours / From Almeria or Malaga approximately 2¼ hours

Please note: If you are arriving in Ferreïrola by car do NOT attempt to drive into the village beyond the plaza by the church. Park in the plaza, call us and we will come and meet you and help you with your bags. The village roads are too narrow for cars (whatever Google Maps or satnav might tell you).

Airport transfers

If you wish we can easily arrange airport pick-ups / drop-offs. Please contact us to arrange these. The price is dependant on which airport you are coming from and how many people are sharing the taxi. We can usually arrange a taxi share if you are travelling on your own. Prices:

To / from	Malaga	Granada
1 person	125 euros	85 euros
2 people sharing	67.50 pp	50 pp
3 people sharing	50 pp	40 pp
4 people sharing	40 pp	35 pp

Buses

There are frequent buses from Malaga (1' 45") or Almeria (2') to central Granada, which is closer to Ferreïrola, so you could take a bus to Granada from either airport and then hire a car there or we can arrange a pick-up / drop-off from / to Granada bus station.

There is also a very good value bus from Granada to Pitres (2' 45"), which is a 10 minute taxi ride from Ferreïrola. You can see the timetable and book the Pitres bus on www.alsa.com
Please note that the Alsa website only recognises Pitres as "Empalme Pitres".

Trains

There are trains to Granada from Madrid (and thus connections to other cities in Spain).

It is also possible to travel by train all the way from London to Granada via Paris and Barcelona. And of course from other cities across Europe. This is the greenest and most comfortable way to get from London to Granada. No airports, no maximum baggage allowance, comfortable seats, great views. And it isn't much more expensive than the plane. You could make it a really special trip with lunch in Paris and a night in Barcelona or Madrid or Granada. Or all 3.....

Rome2Rio.com is a good site for travel advice / booking buses and trains from abroad

seat61.com is the essential site for any train travel anywhere in the world